

Make us your home page

Sun, October 28, 2007
Register now, it's free!

Get Mobile Access | Place an Ad
Email Newsletters | RSS Feeds

La Estrella
tucson.com
Customer Service

JOBS | CARS | REAL ESTATE | CLASSIFIEDS | SHOPPING

Past Week (Free)

Search

Custom Clipper: 0 clippings

Home | Tucson Region | UA Sports | Sports | News | AzStarBiz | Opinion | Accent | Entertainment | Neighborhoods | All Headlines | Blogs | Obituaries

Site Map | Contact Us

Wildcat newsletters
ARIZONA • sign up now
U of A basketball coverage

Go Back

TUCSON REGION

Tucson Time Capsule: KKK leader scouts border

Tucson, Arizona | Published: 10.28.2007

SCOTT BRAUCHER / ARIZONA DAILY STAR 1977 On Oct. 28, 1977, the Ku Klux Klan was planning a search in Douglas for illegal border-crossers, an effort coordinated by Klan national director David Duke. During his one-month organizing trip, Duke said he estimated that two to three dozen Klansmen would begin patrols of the Arizona-Sonora border. According to Duke, the KKK picked Douglas as a base for patrols instead of Nogales because the people in Douglas had showed, in the case against ranchers Thomas and Patrick Hanigan, that they "were willing to stand up and be counted." The Hanigans

advertisement

had recently been acquitted of state charges of assaulting and kidnapping three illegal immigrants on their property near Douglas.

Buy Daily Star photo reprints

Work worth doing...

Immediate openings at our copper mines in Arizona, Colorado and New Mexico

phelps dodge

$2 7-day delivery - Subscribe to the Arizona Daily Star

Tucson Time Capsule is a daily feature, a photographic record of Tucson as it was. If you have a memory of an event to share, please go to go.azstarnet.com/timecapsule, where you can find all of the time capsule photos. You can also add your own historical Tucson photos to the collection. Please observe copyright laws.

Top jobs
Sales and Marketing The Arizona Daily Star Assistant Virtual Team Leader
Trades/Construction Pioneer Landscaping Dozer/Loader Operator
Sales and Marketing Audio Express Car Stereo Sales
Driver/Transportation Delivery Service Enterprises Drivers

Ads by Google

New Tucson shooting range

We're working to make sure that you have a place to shoot. Join us.

www.trpc.org

Advertise on this site

